Remember, Honor, Celebrate

Memorial Day pays tribute to those who have made the ultimate sacrifice while serving in the armed forces. There are many ways you can take part in honoring these heroes.

Explore their stories. Read a military memoir or watch a movie or documentary. You can listen to recordings of veterans' firsthand accounts online at StoryCorps.org.

Tune in to a TV tradition. On the night before Memorial Day, PBS stations broadcast the National Memorial Day Concert, an annual event that honors the fallen and their families with musical performances and personal stories.

Learn about your family's military heritage. Talk to family members who were in the military about their experiences. Ask about stories of past relatives who served.

Post a tribute. If you have a loved one who is a fallen hero, post a photo and story about them on social media.

Send a letter. Express your thanks in a note to currently deployed troops. Search online for one of many nonprofit groups that gather and distribute letters to men and women serving overseas.

Visit a memorial. Spend time at a local military monument or museum, or pay your respects at a veterans cemetery. You can also make virtual visits to many war memorials.

Pause at 3 p.m. Stop and reflect during the National Moment of Remembrance, a one-minute pause observed at 3 p.m. local time on Memorial Day.
